Summit Insight Recognized for Excellence in Helping Small Businesses Secure Govm't Contracts

Judy Bradt, Founder, Receives "2009 Member of the Year" Award from American Small Business Coalition in Recognition of Educational and Business Building Efforts

Washington D.C. -- (21 April 2009) -- Judy Bradt knows what it takes for a small business to get a government contract. She and her company, Summit Insight (www.summitinsight.com), have helped 6,000 clients win over $300 million in government contracts, and she knows that small businesses often struggle to get started winning government work. The strategy development that Summit Insight provides is easy to understand and implement, and her ability to point businesses in the right direction and help them start earning has gotten Judy recognition from clients and associations such as the American Small Business Coalition (ASBC; www.asbc.org), a member organization that supports businesses working in the government sector. As the ASBC's 2009 Member of the Year, Judy Bradt and Summit Insight are recognized as one of the leading resources in the D.C. area for small businesses looking to begin working in government consulting.

Judy is passionate about her work as strategist and champion for small businesses that are stalled in their efforts to get started or expand their government business. She says, "I find people who've spent thousands of dollars, months of time, meeting after meeting, to try and get into government work and haven't been able to get anywhere. They come to me when they are frustrated, confused, and want the pain to stop. I am fanatical about helping them get un-stuck, and find business they can win."

Part of Judy's mission to help small businesses is delivered online. SummitInsight.com offers tools articles, white papers and e-news signup all about selling to the US government. These free resources showcase what Judy provides to her clients, and are part of the reason she's earned recognition from the ASBC. With packages ranging from one-shot help, executive strategy development and teleconferences to a personal, full-day meeting and evaluation, Summit Insight provides a wealth of resources for a small business that complement Judy's topical tips on her blog, Sell2USGov.

Judy Bradt will receive the ASBC's 2009 Member of the Year at the dinner that ends their annual conference, which will be held on April 23 at 6.00 pm.
